SHIPPING A GREAT LOCOMOTIVE COMPLETE

Monster seventy-five-ton locomotive, built expressly for the President of the Argentine Republic, being shipped from the Eddy-stone plant of the Baldwin Locomotive Works. Hitherto engines have been shipped in parts and reassembled when they reached their destination. This is said to be the first time that a locomotive has been shipped complete. It is here shown being lifted by a great crane to its resting place on the ship's deck.

TESTING LIGHT

This large globe is what is known as an integrating sphere, and is used by the Bureau of Standards to test the electrical capacity and candle power of lights. This is determined by ascertaining the average intensity of the light on the interior of a spherical surface of which the electric bulb forms the central point.

RADIO TYPEWRITER

What is claimed to be the first radio typewriter ever constructed has just been finished by C. B. Merick, constructing engineer at the Radio Naval Laboratory in Washington. The operator of the machine receives a radio message, takes it down in telegraphic code, and the machine then transcribes the message on the mechanical typewriter at the extreme right of the picture.

Trio of Possible Successors to Michael Collins

THE assassination of Michael Collins by some of his own countrymen lying in ambush has aroused regret and indignation throughout the world. Probably one of the three figures presented on this page will be chosen to wear the mantle of the late leader. Cosgrave is the formal acting head of the Provisional Government. He is a reserved man of tenacious character and was a close friend and valuable ally of both Griffith and Collins. Mulcahy is Chief of Staff of the Free State Army and his sobriquet of "Dashing Dick" shows the esteem in which he is held by his men. He is declared to be a formidable candidate to succeed his late chief. Duffy is perhaps the best known of the three. He has been Foreign Minister in the Provisional Government and also the Irish representative in Rome, and has filled both posts with distinction.

Catching White Whales Off the Coast of Alaska; Yacht

CATCH OF WHALES ON ALASKAN COAST

Although the palmy days of the New Bedford whalers are over, whale fishing is still carried on to a considerable extent in the waters that border Alaska, and that it is not fruitless is shown by the large number of white beluga whales here pictured, drawn up on the beach at Anchorage. They are small, from eight to ten feet long, and are easily caught when they chase herring and other prey into bays and other shallow waters.

PRETTIEST STENOGRAPHER IN PARIS

Mlle. Augustine du Pont, who in a recent contest was voted to be the most beautiful stenographer in the French capital. As prizes accompanying this distinction she has been given 10,000 francs, a trousseau, a motor car and various other articles of value. Since the decision was rendered she is said to have had over three hundred offers of marriage and has been showered with invitations to undertake theatrical and motion-picture engagements.

SEVERE FLOODS THAT HAVE SWEEPED OVER PARTS OF ENGLAND

A district in Nottinghamshire is here shown where the crops ready for reaping were completely ruined by the great flood that has been the phenomenon of the year in England. It is said that over half of the country has been flooded by rain and rising tides. Rowboats have been put into operation to take people from the upper stories of their homes.

Racing in the Sound; Freedom Statue in Petrograd

RACING YACHTS NARROWLY ESCAPE COLLISION

What might easily have proved a serious accident occurred recently when the leading boat in a race, the Grebe, was almost struck by one of the contestants that barely missed her bow, as shown above. There were thirteen yachts in the race, which took place off Oyster Bay, L. I., for the purpose of picking four defenders to represent the United States against Great Britain in a series of races there in September. A forty-mile-an-hour wind disabled five of the racing boats. (P. & A. Photos.)

HUGE STATUE OF FREEDOM IN PETROGRAD

Remarkable design of the Siberian sculptor Chukoff, who is said to have used his own features as model for the statue, which is thirty-seven times the size of a man. The statue is deigned to be symbolic of the overthrow of the Romanoff dynasty and of the rising of the people. The eyes of the statue are to be in red, and it is said that they will be visible for a distance of many miles. (International.)

RAILROAD CRASH

The engineer and fireman of the westbound Michigan Central Express were killed when the train was wrecked recently at Gary, Ind. The train was speeding toward Chicago when suddenly there was a crash, the engine seemed to leap the rails and the train piled on top in a splintered mass. The cause of the wreck was unknown. (P. & A. Photos.)

Sparkling Baseball Plays and Brilliant Players;

PUT OUT AT THE PLATE

Bob Meusel, heavy-hitting outfielder of the Yankees, out at the plate in the second inning of the Yankee-White Sox game at the Polo Grounds Aug. 20. Sheely's throw-in came straight to Schalk, who is shown putting the ball on the batter, while Umpire Hildebrandt is watching the play.

(P. & A. Photos.)

"BABE" MAKES TWO HOMERS IN GAME

The mighty "Colossus of Swat" was at his best in the game at the Polo Grounds between the Chicago White Sox and the Yankees on Aug. 20. Not content with knocking out one homer, he made two in the course of the game. In the first inning Dugan was on base and is here seen coming toward the plate, followed by Ruth. Just to make a perfect day and to show that the first was not a fluke the "Babe" clouted another before the game was over.

TOPS AMERICAN LEAGUE TWIRLERS

"Bullet Joe" Bush, star pitcher of the New York Yankees, who has won twenty games this season and lost four. Pillette of Detroit is the only one who has approached him, with a record of fifteen won and six lost.

(P. & A. Photos.)

HOW BUSH GRIPS THE BALL

The most skillful fingers of any pitcher in the American League, those of Joe Bush of the Yankees are here shown just before letting go the ball which has worked havoc this season among all the opposing teams of his league. He has proved the mainstay of the Yankees.

President Address- ing Joint Session of Congress

PRESIDENT HARDING on Aug. 18 made a notable address to a joint session of Congress, assembled in the House of Representatives. He expressed his determination to exert all the force and authority of the Government to keep trains moving and protect employees of railroads. Emphatic sentences, particularly those in which he condemned lawlessness growing out of the coal and railroad strike, and pledging himself to do his utmost to end what he indicated was becoming a reign of terror, were liberally applauded. The applause from his auditors, consisting of members of the Senate and the House and a large gathering of interested spectators, was loud and prolonged when he declared at the conclusion of his address: "Wherefore, I am resolved to use all the power of the Government to maintain transportation and sustain the right of the men to work." The President's words rang out clearly and distinctly. There was no recommendation in the address that Congress enact immediate legislation to meet the crisis growing out of the railway strike.

Commemorating Victory of Second Battle of the Marne

ALLIES CELEBRATE

In commemoration of the recapture of Château-Thierry in the second battle of the Marne the allied troops in the Army of Occupation on the Rhine held a great celebration on an island just outside of Coblenz on July 30 and 31. The French 156th Infantry and the American forces stationed at Coblenz took part in the exercises, which, in addition to a great review, included field exercises and an elaborate concert program.

SITE OF ROOSEVELT'S STATUE

Vice President Coolidge about to turn his first spadeful of earth at the base of the statue of Theodore Roosevelt that is to be erected at Portland, Ore. The statue, which is the work of A. P. Proctor, is being presented to the city of Portland by Dr. Henry Waldon Coe, a resident of that city and long a personal friend of Roosevelt. Mr. Coolidge delivered an address in which he stated that Roosevelt had done more to wipe out of existence all domination of selfish interest than any other American. Standing beside Mr. Coolidge is Mr. S. C. Pier, Portland's Commissioner of Parks.

Wooden Bullets From Anti-Aircraft Guns; Lion Cubs

TRACER BULLET CARRIES DEATH
Recent night scene showing tracer bullets from anti-aircraft guns flying through the air. The bullets are of wood and supposed to be harmless. Recently, however, a woman who was viewing the brilliant pyrotechnics from the deck of an excursion boat was struck by one of the bullets, which pierced her breast. She was carried to a hospital and died a short time later.
(P. & A. Photos.)

STRANGE PLAYMATES FOR A LITTLE TENNESSEE GIRL
Margaret Cullen, 6 years old, of Memphis, Tenn., is less fond of dogs and teddy bears than she is of baby lions. Her father is Superintendent of the Zoo in that city and says that wild animals make the safest and most affectionate pets. Little Margaret is here shown with a baby lion cub under each arm. She is extremely fond of them and they seem to return her affection.
(P. & A. Photos.)

CAR WRECK
Fifty passengers were pitched headlong from their seats and most of them injured recently when a three-car train from Buffalo to Niagara Falls ran into a dynamite hole near the outskirts of Buffalo. The wreck was believed to have been deliberately planned.

SALVO OF BIG GUNS FROM THE OKLAHOMA

The Oklahoma, one of the finest battleships of the Pacific Fleet, is here seen firing ten of her 14-inch guns at targets ten miles away. Many direct hits were scored and an enviable record attained. Great attention is being paid in both Atlantic and Pacific Fleets to gunnery practice. (U. S. Navy Official.)

SARAZEN WINS NEW GOLF TROPHY

Gene Sarazen, whose meteoric rise in the golf world has been one of the sensations of the present season, is here shown holding the cup that he won when he annexed the national professional championship recently at Pittsburgh. He had already won the open golf championship at the Skokie tournament by defeating Hagen, Jones, Barnes and a host of other stars of the golf world. He is the first man who has ever won both the open and professional titles in one year. (P. & A. Photos.)

CABINET MEMBERS AND CONGRESSMEN AT PLAY ON WASHINGTON COURT

Every morning at 7 o'clock members of the Cabinet and of Congress may be seen on the President's lawn tennis courts, which are in very good shape for play this year. Left to right, with their racquets, are: Senator James W. Wadsworth Jr., Senator Frederick Hale, Senator George W. Pepper and Acting Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt. The former two had just been decisively beaten by the latter.

IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL CORTEGE OF HARRY BOLAND PASSING THROUGH DUBLIN

Hearse covered with floral tributes and containing the body of Harry Boland passing Nelson's Pillar in Dublin. Boland had been for many years active in working for the independence of Ireland. Much of his time was spent in the service of the cause in America. He was a warm partisan of De Valera and, together with the latter, was strongly opposed to the Anglo-Irish treaty. When civil war broke out he joined the Republican forces. When officers of the Provisional Government attempted to arrest him at Skerries Island he resisted and was shot, dying a few hours later. COLLINS'S BETROTHED

Miss Kitty Kiernan of Granard, Ireland, who was engaged to be married shortly to Michael Collins, the late Irish leader. The wedding had been thrice postponed because of the burdens of state resting upon Collins. She is the daughter of a prominent merchant of Granard, and is young, pretty and accomplished.

PRESIDENT REVIEWING STUDENT-SOLDIERS FROM CAMP MEADE

The President made a notable address on Aug. 21 to student soldiers and among other things said: "If I had my way, instead of 28,000 in training camps now, there would be more than 100,000 annually studying and preparing for military service." Behind the President can be seen Secretary of War Weeks (bareheaded) standing beside General Pershing.

MRS. HELEN H. GARDNER

One of the three Civil Service Commissioners whose headquarters are in Washington. The Civil Service Commission is the court of appeals when trouble comes between employer and employee in Government departments. There are nearly as many women as men working for the Government in Washington, and the problems placed before the Commissioners are often extremely trying and difficult.

THRILLING POLO GAME

One of the exciting phases of the final match for the junior title, which took place recently at the Point Judith Polo Club, Narragansett Pier, R. I., between the Army and Meadow Brook polo teams. The Army won in one of the most brilliantly played games of the season. Daring riding and skillful playing were the rule rather than the exception through the whole period of play.

DESTROYING SEIZED LIQUORS

Part of a consignment of liquors, confiscated recently by prohibition agents from a sloop named the Viking, is here shown being destroyed by pouring it into a sink, from which it is conveyed to the sewer. The value of the raided liquor was fixed at $200,000, and many hours were consumed in the work of destruction.

YOUNGEST GIRL LAWYER

Miss Thelma L. Harrell of Savannah, Ga., 17 years old, who, it is claimed, is the youngest girl lawyer in the country. She was admitted to the bar in all courts in Georgia on June 28 and admitted to practice in the United States Federal courts July 11.

PRAYING FOR SOULS OF THOSE WHO ARE BEING HUNG

Men and women kneeling in front of Pentonville Prison, London, where the assassins of Sir Henry Wilson were recently executed. The streets adjoining the prison were thronged with sympathizers of the condemned men, who at the time that the execution of Dunn and O'Sullivan was being carried out dropped on their knees and recited their rosary. The doomed men were said to have met their end with courage and resolution. (International.)

SINISTER SYMBOL OF IRISH REBELS

This sign is sometimes found tattooed on the hands of some of the more lawless Irish Republicans. It is said that it is only necessary to show this in order to secure free admittance to theatres, and also to obtain free clothing and food. (Wide World Photos.)

BATTLING AT LIMERICK

RACERS READY FOR THE START

Animated scene at the start of the international balloon racers for the James Gordon Bennett Cup at Geneva, Switzerland. Many nations were represented, but the contest finally resolved itself into a duel between the Belgian balloon, Lieutenant de Muyter, pilot (2), and the American balloon, handled by Captain H. E. Honeywell (1). The latter seemed to have covered the greater distance, but the pilot of the former claimed the cup on the ground that his balloon, while temporarily forced to land, had afterward resumed its flight. The matter was referred to the Cup Committee, and up to the time of going to press had not been decided in favor of either contestant.

Youth is Flexible

Girlish Grace is Impossible if Your Feet are Bound

CANTILEVER SHOES, with their flexible arches, give your feet a new freedom that will reflect itself in your posture and walk. In every move you make on your feet, they will help you, whether you are playing with baby, reaching for something on a shelf, dusting pictures, getting in a car or shopping. In Cantilevers, you have a gentle, flexible arch support that permits your feet to exercise and strengthen. Cantilever Shoe arches are flexible like your own arches. They aid the circulation of your blood. In them you will walk with more grace and perform your pleasures and duties with an unhampered freedom that will increase your tirelessness (your vitality) and change everyday activities into beneficial exercise.

In ordinary shoes with their stiff, unyielding arches and unnatural lines your whole bearing is unconsciously stiffened. The muscles of your body as well as your feet are strained. "Weak foot" develops and you cannot walk with natural grace. Slowly the marring marks of age creep in. Age is manifested by impaired circulation and lack of flexibility. Youth is elastic—supple. The choice is yours whether people read the signs of age or the freshness of youth in your face.

Play golf or tennis, dance or do calisthenics if you wish, but don't offset the beneficial effects of such exercise by wearing shoes with stiff, unyielding arches when you are walking, standing or working. In Cantilevers you will find supreme comfort, support that permits helpful foot exercise with every step, low heels wedged to make you walk correctly, natural lines and room for the toes. These special features have not taken away from their trim appearance. They are finely made of splendid materials and are reasonably priced.

Shoes that do not bear the Cantilever trade-mark are not Cantilever Shoes. Avoid substitution. Cantilevers are sold everywhere—but by only one dealer in each city, except New York. Cantilevers, wherever sold, are properly fitted by experienced men. If none of the dealers listed at the left is near you write the manufacturers, Morse & Burt Co., 11 Carlton Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., for the address of a nearby dealer and an interesting booklet about comfortable shoes.
